emergencies:
Call 9-1-1 or University Police 243-4000

sexual misconduct:
Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action/Title IX Coordinator
243-5710 or eoaa@umontana.edu

student advocacy resource services:
Student Advocacy Resource Services (SARC) 243-6559 for students who experience discrimination, sexual assault, or stalking student conduct violations:

Rhondie Voorhees, Dean of Students
243-6413 or 243-5225

suicidal students:
Counseling Services, Curry Health Center
243-4711. Call ahead for more information or walk a student directly there. All services are confidential

Students living in residence halls, University Villages, and Lewis & Clark housing can contact their student staff member for assistance in accessing resources
When to Report

Are you worried about a student or friend who:

- Is withdrawn from activities or interests
- Acts out, is disruptive or displays threatening behavior
- Has severe changes in appearance and/or hygiene
- Has concerning writings (grudges, morbid thoughts)
- Is intimidating or exhibits illogical thinking
- Has preoccupations or actions that could harm self or others
- Who abuses substances
- Brings relationship issues into the classroom or work
- Shows self-injurious behaviors
- Shows suicidal risk with a refusal to access Counseling Services

The behaviors of concern may not need immediate attention, but they are concerning enough to cause worry.

BIT is NOT Emergency Management

Please call 9-1-1 or 243-4000

In the case of an emergency

BIT is a campus-wide team of appointed professionals responsible for assessing, and responding to serious concerns, distress and/or disruptive behaviors related to students that may threaten the health or safety of the campus community.

BIT serves an important role in the prevention and management of difficulties related to harm to self or others. For example, if a classmate or roommate shows a sudden change of behavior such as missing classes, or poor self-care, a concerned faculty, staff or student could contact a BIT co-chair or complete a BIT referral form. The BIT team reviews and discusses the best strategies to both help the student and manage the situation. And, if determined to be in their best interest, students of concern are contacted and referred to appropriate resources.

A REPORT CAN BE MADE ANONYMICLY.

BIT CO-CHAIRS:
Christine Fiore, Ph.D.
bit@mso.umt.edu
(406) 243-2081

Sandra Schoonover
bit@mso.umt.edu
(406) 243-2611

How to Find Us

UM A to Z: BIT
Webpage referral form:
http://www.umt.edu/vpsa/programs/bit.php

THE UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA BIT IS A MEMBER OF NABITA (NATIONAL BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTION TEAM ASSOCIATION).

WEBSITE: HTTP://NABITA.ORG