

REFUGEES, EURO, BREXIT:

Why Europe Needs Crises To Survive

Dr. Eva-Maria Maggi

School of Government and Public Policy at the University of Arizona

Tuesday, October 4, 7:00-8:00 pm

Liberal Arts, 304-305

Dr. Maggi is an expert on European politics and international security, especially European Union (EU) relations in the Middle East and North Africa and security aspects of transatlantic relations. She is the author of The Will of Change: European Neighborhood Policy, Institutional Change and Domestic Actors in Morocco. In this talk, Dr. Maggi will challenge the notion that the EU is disintegrating. By facing the three greatest political and economic challenges in its 60 years of existence, the EU has become stronger.

In Winter 2017, Dr. Maggi will teach PSCI 320: Politics of the Middle East (online).
